

Suggest a 5th Term, Faubus Evades Issue

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Mention to Gov. Orval E. Faubus the possibility that he may seek a fifth term and he becomes an artful dodger.

Artful because he played the same kind of game in 1958 and 1960 before he filed for third and fourth terms.

Dodger because he is successful in eluding the most pointed questions designed to pin him down.

Some questions he answers only with a smile. To others he grins and says, "No comment." Sometimes he gives an answer that indicates he will run, but he quickly adds, "That shouldn't be taken to mean I'm running."

Faubus' plans have long been the big question hovering over the capitol. Many persons there owe their jobs to him and most of these would like to see him run again, simply to insure their paychecks.

Hope breeds optimism and there are few "political" employees who will admit to any possibility except that he will run.

And those who think he will run think he will win.

In 1958 Faubus filed on March 5. He waited until March 16 in 1960. Each time one opponent had filed before him, Chris Finkbeiner on Feb. 15, 1958, and Bruce Bennett on Jan. 13, 1960.

So far no one has filed for the office, Rep. Dale Alford, D-Ark., has announced, but he hasn't asked the $1,500 filing fee. There's a capitol saying, "No fee, no fever." But there are clues that Faubus is seriously thinking about a fifth term.

Clue 1: Late in February he announced a $5 increase in monthly welfare grant, a move that preceded his 1958 and 1960 announcements.

Clue 2: A new biographical sketch has been prepared, taking the history of the Faubus administration through 1961. It is the kind of document that would be circulated with a political announcement.

Clue 3: None of the governor's key men have stepped out on his own politically. The administration team is being kept intact and the most logical reason would be a new campaign.

Add these to the fact that Faubus still has one political record to break. He shattered precedent by winning election to a fourth term in 1960, but, if he leaves office after this term, he will only have tied the record for tenure in office.

Elias N. Conway served eight years — two four-year terms — in 1892-1890.

An interesting note is that most of the speculation now is whether Faubus will seek another term or retire. For almost a year the pundits centered their guessing on the possibility that he would oppose Sen. J. W. Fulbright, Ark., but those echoes have almost died away.

The experts believe that if Faubus does not run, the gubernatorial field will be jammed. Half a dozen men have openly indicated a desire to run. They do not admit they're waiting on Faubus, but the implication is there.

Some would want to run against him. Others would not want to oppose him. But they can't act until he does.

Faubus has indicated he will announce his decision before the first week in April. If precedent holds—and it has not done a good job of holding for Orval Faubus—the announcement should come within a week or 10 days.

Until it comes, the political artists can paint a clear picture of the Arkansas situation.

Against Birth Control Method

NEW YORK (AP) — A Roman Catholic psychiatrist says the Church-approved rhythm method of birth control is psychologically bad for women because it frustrates them.

And the newly developed pills, to prevent conception might be the worst method yet, from the psychological standpoint, adds Dr. John R. Cavanagh. He says women have become fearful because of warnings that prolonged use of such tablets may have adverse physical effects in later years.

Cavanagh is a private practitioner and special lecturer in pastoral psychiatry at Catholic University in Washington, DC. He gave his views in a speech before the Catholic Guild of Psychiatrists Tuesday during a session here on fertility control.

Cavanagh maintained that any form of birth control frustrates a natural need and is likely to become a source of internal discord, of deceit and of intrapsychic conflict.

He said the rhythm method—the practice of abstinence during the woman's ovulation period—especially creates feelings of frustration.

This frustration, in turn, causes hostility, he said.

Hospital Threatened by Bomb

BINGHAMTON, NY (AP) — Repeated bomb threats to Binghamton General Hospital were made by a moron, police said today as they continued checking the poisoning of 30 babies at the hospital. Six of them died.

The anonymous telephone calls to the hospital began Tuesday after an earlier threat to the hospital's medical director was made public. Police said the publicity probably led to four subsequent calls, between 5 and 8 p. m.

Detective Capt. Michael F. O'Neil said all the calls, apparently, were from the same man.

As for the baby deaths, O'Neil said police still were looking for any possible malicious intent. All signs to date point to mistaken use of salt for sugar in the infants' formula at the hospital, police said.

Floodlights were beamed on the hospital grounds Tuesday night after a male caller, believed to be an adult, told a switchboard operator everybody would be dead in the hospital because of a bomb that would explode.

Police said they found no evidence of a bomb, but continued to age from 3 days to 8 months died.

The six babies, who ranged in age from 3 days to 8 months, died during the last six days after being fed a formula that contained salt instead of sugar. One infant remained in critical condition and another was in serious condition. Eight others have been made ill. In all, 30 infants were fed the formula.

Dr. Lawrence Finberg, a pediatric specialist called in from Baltimore said some of the babies had received as much as a tablespoonful of salt in one day. He said it was the equivalent of an adult swallowing four pounds of salt in one day and is a lethal amount.

A hospital spokesman said it was determined Tuesday that a seventh child had died of earlier complications and had not suffered salt poisoning.

The bomb threats began before dawn Tuesday.

Some 250 Arkansas employers talked with hundreds of students each semester seeking persons to fill jobs in all phases of business. Young McKenzie joined the Delight Egg firm and is currently in Dallas.

Rockefeller Coming to Hope

Winthrop Rockefeller, of Morrilton, will be in Hope Tuesday, March 20th. He will come to town in late afternoon and meet with Republican party workers for a private dinner at 6:00 p. m. This will be followed by a public appearance at the junior high auditorium at 7:30 p. m., at which time Mr. Rockefeller will speak on the need of a two party system in Arkansas. This meeting is open to everyone interested in the establishment of a two party system.

Stop Cancer Statements Are Rapped

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Little Rock physicians have decried statements by a Denver pathologist that early diagnosis and surgery do little to stop cancer.

Dr. Jeff Minckler said in New Orleans there is no cure for cancer and that the medical fraternity ought to be working on one rather than worrying about a patient's "psychologic improvement." He called the emphasis on early diagnosis and surgery "bunk."

Dr. Howard J. Barnhard, head of the Radiology Department at the University of Arkansas Medical Center in Little Rock, said Minckler's statement is "one of the most misleading pieces of information put out to the public that I have ever encountered."

Dr. James R. Wall, a member of the Board of the Pulaski County Chapter of the American Cancer Society, said it was "only reasonable that early diagnosis and the institution of proper treatment would be important in this—as in any other of the more common diseases."

In New Orleans, Dr. Owen H. Wagensteen, chairman of the Minnesota Medical School's Department of Surgery, said Minckler "doesn't know what he's talking about."

Minckler and Wagensteen are featured speakers at the 25th

Interest in Feed Grain Program

Farmers in Hempstead County are showing increased interest in the 1962 feed grain program, Claude Self, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, said today. As of March 12, a total of 48 farms in the County were signed up to take part in the grain sorghum into soil-conserving uses.

Through a comparable period last year 11 County farms had been signed up under the 1961 feed grain program, for the diversion of 130 acres from 1961 crop corn and grain sorghum.

From now on, Chairman Self believes, the office will be increasingly busy explaining the program to farmers and helping them fill out the necessary forms indicating their "intention to participate" in the 1962 feed grain program. Under the program, diversion payments are available to farmers who shift a stated percentage of their acreage formerly planted to corn and grain sorghum into an approved soil conserving practice. By cooperating in the program, growers also qualify for price supports on their 1962 crops of corn and grain sorghum.

The chairman urged farmers to get in touch with the ASCS County Office without delay if they wish further information about the 1962 feed grain program. The sign-up period for the corn and grain sorghum program extends through March 30. The ASCS County office is located at the Court House in Hope.

President's Brother to Run for Senate

BOSTON (AP) — Edward M. Kennedy, youngest brother of President Kennedy, announced today, as expected, that he will seek election to the Senate seat his brother held before winning the presidency.

Kennedy will run for the Democratic nomination in a double test—for the party convention endorsement in June, and in the September primary.

Already in the contest is Massachusetts Atty. Gen. Edward J. McCormack Jr., a nephew of House Speaker John W. McCormack.

The seat now is held by Sen. Benjamin A. Smith who does not seek return to the Senate for the two years remaining in the term. The clash of McCormack and Kennedy forces, powerful Massachusetts clans, should give the state its most intensive Democratic skirmishing in years.

Present candidates for the Republican nomination are George Cabot Lodge and U.S. Rep. Laurence Curtis.

Lodge is the son of Henry Cabot Lodge, former U.S. ambassador to the United Nations and senator from Massachusetts before President Kennedy wrestled the seat from him in 1952.

Candidate Kennedy, now an assistant district attorney in Boston, reached the 30-year minimum age for a senator only last month. McCormack is 38.

Kennedy is the youngest of his family, and at 6 feet 2 inches is the tallest. This is his first try for elective public office.

Pays Tribute to Members of Kiwanis

Leonard Ellis paid tribute to his fellow Kiwanis members yesterday for their successful efforts in keeping alive an amazing string of 18 annual minstrel shows, plus publication of an annual souvenir program which provides the bulk of revenue for the Hope Youth Program.

Speaking before the 60 member group, Mr. Ellis pointed out that in the past 14 years the club has spent more than $20,000 for youth activities.

As chairman of publicity and advertising, he handed out assignments to each member of the club for this year's souvenir program and urged them to complete their assignments by Saturday noon.

The cast of characters for the showing of the 19th annual minstrel, March 29 and 30 at the high school auditorium, have already been selected. First rehearsal was held last night under the direction of Eddie Whitman, general chairman.

The show will actually open this year on the night of March 27 in the Blevins High School gym — and then move to Hope March 29 and 30. All proceeds from the Blevins performance will go to the Blevins Youth Program.

Bands Plan a Spring Concert

The Hope Junior and Senior Bands will play their Spring Festival Concert Sunday, March 18 at 2:30 p. m. in the high school auditorium.

The Junior Band will perform their festival selections. Followed by the Senior Band who will perform highlights from the show "South Pacific." Also featuring Bugler's Holiday, a Cornet Trio, and Papaya, a trombone solo. Admission is 25c for students and 50c for adults.

Fire Hits Church of Christ

THE WALNUT STREET CHURCH OF CHRIST WAS damaged by fire of undetermined origin here today. The blaze appeared to engulf all the inside of the large frame building. Firemen are pictured with water hoses at the front and side of the church at 9th and Walnut. Estimate as to the loss could not be determined immediately but the entire inside of the church appeared to be pretty well gutted. The fire was reported shortly after 12:30 p. m. and firemen had the blaze under control in less than an hour.

IRS Survey Ruins Fordyce Business

FORDYCE, Ark. (AP) — Business here has dropped 50 per cent since Internal Revenue Agents began a survey March 15 to determine how well Dallas County residents pay their taxes.

And some companies have registered a decrease of as much as 75 per cent the Fordyce Chamber complained Tuesday.

A letter the chamber fired off to Washington said the 30 or 40 IRS agents in town made the people nervous.

"...it's just the psychological effect that they're going to be called in and be checked," a Chamber official said. "Anybody can make a mistake on his income tax."

The chamber polled business houses last week after receiving numerous complaints about declining business, the officials said.

Dallas County Rep. Edward Works also wrote the Congressional delegation in Washington. His letter said in part:

"It was after the actual checking began that our people became irritable and nervous. Business practically came to a halt, not because of the fact that we were being checked, but because of the method of being used. There is simply no consistency in the way people are being told to file their income tax. One man will be allowed to deduct a certain thing while the person in the next booth will be denied that right. We think this is very unfair," he concluded.

In the compliance survey, which is scheduled to end Friday, a tax return is pulled from files at random and that taxpayer is called in for a check to see if he has complied with the letter of the law. The Dallas County survey is one of the largest ever conducted in Arkansas and the only one conducted in recent years.

Snows Taper Off in Two Sections

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Snows appeared tapering off across the snow-clogged sections of the Midwest and Northeast today but the effects of the late-winter storm were widespread.

One of the major jobs in the snow belt covering the Dakotas, Nebraska, Iowa and Minnesota was clearing roads and highways blocked by the wind-whipped snow. Hundreds of schools have been closed. Some towns were virtually isolated. An undetermined number of motorists were stranded.

Crews in northeast and central Nebraska worked during the night opening up roads. Some highways in the northeast section were covered by 14 foot drifts. Crews reached a broken power line in the Ord area and supplied electricity to most of the 100 farm homes at David Creek which had been without power since Monday.

Nearly 60 motorists, including truck drivers, have been marooned since Monday night in the little town of Galva, Iowa. Heavy snow on U.S. Highway 20 in northwest Iowa halted the motorists. Many were provided rooms by townspersons. Others stayed at the American Legion hall in the town of 500 some 50 miles east of Sioux City.

A New York stage company of 28 headed by actresses Eva Le Gallienne and Faye Emerson planned to leave Mountain Lake, a small town in southwestern Minnesota where they had been marooned since Monday by deep snow. The troupe was to continue its chartered bus trip after highways were cleared, heading for an engagement in Texarkana, Ark., Thursday night.

Light snow and flurries continued during the night and early morning from the eastern edge of the northern and central plains states eastward through the Great Lakes region, the Ohio Valley and the northern Appalachians into New England.

A storm dumped 20 inches of snow on Moose Mountain in Brookfield, N.H., and Middlebury, Vt., Tuesday. The storm disrupted power and telephone service in some areas.

Home a meeting will be held to discuss the bond issue for the proposed new egg plant . . . all residents of the area are invited to join in this question and answer discussion.

Wardlaw, formerly of McCaskill, has been picked the outstanding noncommissioned officer at Bergstrom Air Force Base . . . he is a vehicle maintenance supervisor, was selected in recognition of the superior job he did in obtaining essential vehicle equipment for his unit, following Hurricane Carla . . . the sergeant is a graduate of Blevins High School and is married to the former Bertha Ross of Unterfuhning, Germany and they have three children.

State Police expect to arrest a suspect for questioning about another wreck at Washington on the Baptist Church curve . . . the Church was practically destroyed last year when hit by a car . . . anyway last night someone lost control of a truck, knocked down a telephone pole and hit the Church sidewalk and kept going.

No Real Hope for Nuclear Test Ban Pact

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

GENEVA (AP) — For the first time in almost two years Russia and the Western Allies started a new round of disarmament negotiations today with some hope of restricting but much less hope of stopping the nuclear arms race.

The 17-nation U.N. disarmament committee met at the Palace of Nations in late afternoon for a ceremonial session. The last big disarmament conference broke down in 1960.

The delegates, including U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, heard the resumption of negotiations hailed as signaling in itself an easing of East-West tensions.

American sources said just before the session opened that the Western powers and Russia might be able to negotiate an agreement to block the spread of nuclear weapons and thus begin to bring the arms race under control.

Western officials saw little prospect of agreements in coming months, however, which would halt the manufacture of nuclear weapons.

The outlook is dim, too, for stopping nuclear weapons testing. In both cases, officials said, the apparently insuperable barrier is Russia's unwillingness to open up its territory to international inspection.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

GENEVA (AP) — Exploratory talks with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko in advance of the 17-nation disarmament conference which opened today failed to open up any real hope of concluding a nuclear weapons test ban treaty now U.S. sources said.

They expressed belief, however, that it may be possible to negotiate an agreement with the Soviet Union to block the spread of nuclear weapons in the world and thus make a beginning in bringing the atomic arms race under some control.

Gromyko in the preliminary talks was reported to have stuck to the line that Western proposals for an international inspection system to verify disarmament measures amounts to a demand for espionage rights within the Soviet Union.

The present prospect is that President Kennedy's proposal for a test ban treaty with controls will fall through and that the United States will go forward, as Kennedy has announced, with its series of nuclear tests in the atmosphere beginning in late April.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and British Foreign Secretary Lord Home, in several sessions with Gromyko, have made no progress toward opening up real negotiations on Berlin either. Talks on the Berlin crisis will continue outside the disarmament meetings, it was learned.

Rusk and Gromyko will make major policy statements on disarmament Thursday.

As late as Monday, the Russians showed an interest in cutting off the spread of nuclear weapons. Their view was set forth in letters to U Thant, acting U.N. Secretary-General.

The United States and Britain went into the conference with ob-

Migratory Waterfowl at New Low

WASHINGTON (AP)—The continental migratory waterfowl population has reached the lowest point
in 11 years, the Interior Department announced today.

On the basis of birds observed
during the annual winter waterfowl survey which was made during January, the continental waterfowl population is down 14 per cent from the 13-year average, the Fish
and Wildlife Service found.

Ducks were down 13 per cent
from last year and 10 per cent
below the long-range average. The total number of geese was down 8 per cent from last year, but
was slightly above the 13-year average.

Only the favored hunting species,
only the scup and the Canada
goose showed consistent increases
in the survey, the first nationwide
checkup since the end of the hunting season to determine how waterfowl came through last year's drought in the nesting areas
and the hunting pressure.

Mallards and pintails, described
as the "bread-and-butter ducks"
because they usually provide the
most hunting for the most hunters,
recorded a 9-year low, the service
said.

The number of black ducks observed was the lowest since 1950.
The canvasbacks also continued
to be critically low in numbers,
the service reported.

A comparison of the number of birds seen in 1961 and 1962 indicated that on a continental basis:
blue geese were down 39 per cent;
redhead ducks were down 37 per cent; Atlantic brant, down 53 per cent; mallards, down 23 per cent;
coot, down 24 per cent, and pintails, down 14 per cent. Canada geese were below the 1961 figure, but well ahead of the longtime average.

Scup were up 15 per cent and
snow geese showed an increase of 9 per cent.

The number of waterfowl observed in the Mississippi flyway
was 15 per cent below 1961. Puddle ducks were off 22 per cent but divers were up 5 per cent. Geese were off 19 per cent.

Charged in Slaying

TEXARKANA (AP)—Ruef Mc-
Faddin, 15, a Texarkana Negro,
was bound over to Miller Circuit Court Monday after waiving a preliminary hearing in the fatal
stabbing of another Negro, Bobby Sewell, 21, at a tavern here March
5. No trial date has been set.

Caraway Man Named to Board

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov.
Orval E. Faubus appointed Amos
David of Caraway to the board
of the Arkansas Boys Training School today.

David succeeds F. N. Carnahan,
a Dundas editor who resigned after the Arkansas Supreme Court ruled that board members could
not sit printing to the state.

Faubus announced today he had received the resignation of Ralph Van Meter of Judsonia, who resigned from the Negro Boys Industrial School Board for the same reason.

Faubus also announced the resignation of Fred Martin from the NBIS board. Martin quit after he took a state job in the Employment Security Division.

The governor said he had not yet selected replacements for Van Meter and Martin.

Priest Called to Support His Children

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A
former priest whose wife says he was spirited to California by the Catholic church must appear in Domestic Relations Court March 19 to answer charges of failure
to support his four children.

Walter Ryan, 57, turned up
here last week after his wife sued
the church in Mineola, N.Y., for $2,375,000 over his disappearance.

The child support action began in January 1960 at the request of
New York authorities. Just before Ryan reappeared, an assistant district attorney here said nothing
had happened in the case because
"I've never been able to find him." The order to appear was given Monday.

The wife, Alice, 41, of Glen Head, L.I., said Catholics spirited
her husband away in 1955 and
kept him a prisoner in monaster-
ies. They were married in 1950
while he was assistant pastor of the Glen Cove parish.

Ryan said he came to California
on his own free will and lived quietly, excommunicated by the church because he broke his vow
of celibacy. He maintains he contributed more than $10,000 to his family since leaving.

Retrial Sought for Convicted Slaying

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Attorneys
for Clarence Stewart Jr., filed a brief in U.S. District Court Monday claiming the convicted Negro slayer should have a new trial because of racial discrimination on
the jury panel when he was sentenced.

The brief cited a previous federal appellate court decision ordering Luther Bailey, another Negro convicted of rape, be retried because of such discrimination.

Stewart, who was convicted of slaying a North Little Rock auto parts dealer, was sentenced to death under the same court rules
as Bailey.

Jury selection rules pertaining to the Pulaski Circuit Court have been changed since both convictions.

Bailey was later retried, convicted and sentenced to death.
Stewart's conviction has been upheld by the Arkansas Supreme Court.

Alford Lashes Crop Controls

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP)—
Rep. Dale Alford, D-Ark., a candidate for governor, lashed out at government crop controls Monday night and said farmers had lost
the freedom to manage their own farms and lives.

Alford told a meeting of a West
Memphis civic club that farmers
could suffer severe penalties "for not farming just exactly as the master planers in Washington set down by decree. Is this government of the people, by the people
and for the people?" he asked.

A proposal to raise the minimum wage of Mexican farm workers from 50 to 70 cents an hour
also came in for criticism from Alford.

He termed the Labor Department proposal "a further step in the program to completely control every facet of American life."

He said the proposal was not an effort to better the livelihood of the Mexican farm workers but an excuse to force a minimum wage
program on farmers.

The Mexican farm worker "is not forced at gun-point to work in the cotton fields," Alford said.
"He is glad to obtain the work."

Shoots Children, Self to Death

LEWISTON, Maine (AP)—An
unemployed woodsman, separated
from his wife, shot their three children to death and then took
his own life early today, police
said.

He was identified as Willis O.
son, 41. The children were Annie,
12; Archie, 9, and Andy, 5.
Medical Examiner Merrill S. F.
Greene called the killings a triple
murder and a suicide.

Charges Suit Inspired by Left Wingers

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The president of the segregationist Capital
Citizens' Council charged in Little Rock Monday night that a lawsuit aimed at ending segregation of Little Rock recreational facilities was inspired by race-mixers
and left wingers.

Amis Guthridge, a Little Rock
attorney and head of the CCC, contended in a radio broadcast that recreational facilities are equal
for both Negroes and white persons.

The lawsuit was filed last week
by a group of Negroes seeking to end segregation of all Little Rock
recreational facilities, including swimming pools.

Guthridge contended that the Negro swimming pool in Little Rock was newer, but less used,
than the pool for white persons.

Also speaking was the Rev. Wesley Pruden who said the nation's press, magazines, television and other opinion forming media had been "taken over by our enemies
and slanted against us."

Pruden also said news coverage
in Little Rock was written to favor race-mixers and "to smear
those who oppose them."

Kennedy Aide in Line for Treasury

WASHINGTON (AP)—Richard Maguire, a White House aide and political associate of President Kennedy, is reported in line to become treasurer of the Democratic party.

Maguire will become the party's top fund raiser if, as expected, Treasurer Matthew H.
McCloskey is named ambassador to Ireland, government sources said Monday.

Grant Stockdale, a Miami, Fla.,
real estate man, now is ambassador to Ireland. Sources said McCloskey is expected to take over the Dublin post about the middle of this year.

A Harvard graduate and former head of a Boston law firm,
Maguire has been associated politically with the President since 1948, when Kennedy was first elected to Congress.

No reason was given for the expected resignation of Stockdale
from the Dublin post. His name
figured in stories last summer
about a $5,000 loan from a New York builder and he was quoted
in a newspaper interview as saying Kennedy told him to pay back
the money.

The White House said at the time that Kennedy had followed
his customary practice in advising Stockdale that all of his financial affairs should be in order. The policy applies to all
appointees to government posts,
the White House said.

Gordon Named

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Edward
Gordon, 46, brother of Lt. Gov.
Nathan Gordon, was named Monday by Gov. Orval E. Faubus to a nine-year term on the state Board of Education. Gordon, a Morrilton lawyer, resigned from the War Memorial Stadium Commission to accept the appointment.
He succeeds Herbert L. Ferguson
of Conway.

District Winners Will Compete

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Four regional winners were to compete
today in finals of the Arkansas
High School Oratorical Contest
here.

Area winners are Cynthia Haseloff of Springdale, Brenda Welch
of Jonesboro, Mike Barkley of North Little Rock, and Chester
Johnson of Monticello, all high school seniors.

The finals were to be held in the Arkansas House chamber before speech classes from high schools in the Little Rock area.

The winner will receive a $200
scholarship and will advance to
a six-state regional tournament
with a chance eventually to compete for a $4,000 scholarship in the national finals.

Attorney General Frank Holt is chairman of the contest, which is sponsored by the American Legion.

India Also Gets Aid From the Russians

WASHINGTON (AP)—India
heads the list of 27 countries outside the Sino-Soviet bloc which have received economic assistance from behind the Iron Curtain.

Authoritative sources, reporting
this today in connection with President Kennedy's foreign aid
message to Congress, said such economic aid grants and credits
have averaged about $1 billion annually for the last three years.

The total outlay from 1954 when
a start was made with a modest $11 million loan to Afghanistan,
is figured at $6.5 billion through 1961. That includes $4.4 billion in economic aid and $2.1 in military aid.

Besides the money the bloc has sent 8,500 economic and 1,800
military technicians to less-developed countries.

No country-by-country breakdown of the military aid is available.

India had the largest share in economic assistance with $950
million. Indonesia was second with $641 million, Egypt third with $615 million, Cuba fourth
with $357 million, Afghanistan
fifth with $217 million, and Iraq
sixth with $216 million.

No Exemptions From Health Act

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Attorney General Frank Holt said today the State Health Department has no
authority to exempt any industry
from requirements of the Arkansas Food and Drug Act.

The opinion was requested by Dr. J. T. Herron, State health officer, who wrote that some soft drink bottlers have objected to the attempted enforcement of that part of the law which requires that labels list the name and place of business of the manufacturer,
packer or distributor.

The bottlers sought a regulation
similar to that of Oregon, which exempts bottlers from labeling requirements if they carry a brand
trade mark on the bottle cap.

Assistant Attorney General Dennis Horton said the law must apply uniformly to all manufacturers
and that the department has no
legal authority to make an exemption.

Peace Corps Expansion to 10,000

WASHINGTON (AP)—Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver
told Congress today present plans
call for 10,000 volunteers overseas or in training by the end of August 1963.

Shriver spoke before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee
in support of a Peace Corps request for an increase in appropriations from $30 million this year
to $83.7 million in fiscal 1963.

"Response to the Peace Corps—
at home and abroad—has been far greater than our budget requests would indicate," Shriver
said.

He said that since the Peace Corps was created by executive order March 1, 1961, more than 20,000 Americans have volunteered and 2,000 new applications
are coming in each month.

Shriver added, "Requests from developing countries throughout the world are for many times the number of volunteers that we have agreed to supply."

He noted that each of the 12
countries where volunteers now
serve have asked for more.

Arkansan Involved in False Warning

ABILENE, Tex. (AP)—An Air Force lieutenant colonel has been accused of falsely telling an airline stewardess that a hijacking
attempt would be made on the plane in which he was a passenger last December.

A summons on the criminal
misdemeanor charge to be served on Lt. Col. Ira S. Coles Jr., stationed at Little Rock, Ark., Air Force Base, was received here
today.

According to information accompanying the charge, Col.
Coles remarked to an American Airlines stewardess on a flight between Dallas and Los Angeles, Calif., last Dec. 13 "concerning
an attempt to be made to commit
an act of aircraft piracy, knowing
such information to be false."

Conviction could bring a maximum fine of $1,000, a one-year
prison sentence, or both.

Barge Crashes Into Bridge

MEMPHIS (AP)—A nine-barge
river tow crashed headon into the center pier of the Harahan Bridge
here today.

Two barges were reported sinking. Several others were torn loose from their tow and floated downstream in the flood-swollen Mississippi River.

There were no reports of injuries.

Boats put out from the Memphis waterfront to retrieve the maverick barges which menaced
downstream river traffic.

The barges and the towboat, the
"Caleb H.", are owned by the Barrett Lines of Nashville. Six were loaded with rock and three with lead. They were en route
from Nashville to Baton Rouge.

A spokesman for Waterways
Marine said one barge in the tandem literally "climbed up the pier" when it struck. The bridge itself, a railroad span crossing the river, apparently suffered no damage.

The towboat was undamaged.

Larceny Charged Against Man

CONWAY, Ark. (AP)—A grand
larceny charge was filed today
against J. M. Presley, 51, of Damascus, Ark., in connection with the alleged theft of $689 from the owner of a cafe here Monday night. Prosecuting Atty. George Hartje Jr. said.

Hartje said a purse belonging to Mrs. Dorothy Burks, owner of the cafe, was taken from behind a counter. Presley and a teenaged boy were arrested in a car
near Damascus, and the money
was recovered, Hartje said.

The youth was questioned, but not charged, Hartje said. Presley was released on $5,000 bond, Sheriff Joe Castleberry said.

Body Identified

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—
identity was made Monday night
on the body of a 40-year-old Pine Bluff woman, which was found in a ditch west of here. Police said
B. A. Clubb identified the body as that of his wife, Mrs. Rosa Lee Davis Clubb. Officers said an autopsy is being performed in Little Rock. The body was found by a night watchman.

L. R. Board Will Discuss Suits

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Little Rock City Board of Directors
probably will discuss Wednesday afternoon a court suit to force desegregation of city recreational facilities, Mayor Werner Knoop
said today.

It is a regular meeting, and Knoop said he did not consider
the suit an emergency that demanded a special meeting. He pointed out that the city has almost a month to answer the complaint filed in U.S. District Court
here.

Twenty-two Negroes filed the suit, asking for desegregation of the city's two golf courses, the War Memorial Park swimming pool, Robinson Auditorium and other park facilities, such as tennis courts.

Mrs. Kennedy Sees U. S. Aid in Action

By FRANCES LEWINE

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy got a look today at an Indian project financed by American aid, the All-India Medical Institute. She said she was delighted.

Two young heart patients gave the American First Lady a bouquet of roses. Children suffering from various ailments left their beds to greet her.

The medical center still is incomplete. It was built with $6 million in U.S. government aid and $828,000 from the Rockefeller Foundation, plus other foreign assistance.

Mrs. Kennedy was the guest of President Rajendra Prasad at a glittering luncheon. Tonight she switched her residence from a borrowed bungalow to the pink suite of Prime Minister Nehru's home.

She rested late this morning. Weary from a flight from Rome in which she had only 3 1/2 hours sleep, plus the excitement of her arrival here she slept 12 hours.

She drove bareheaded to the presidential mansion for the luncheon.

A change in her schedule provides for a sail Friday down the sacred Ganges River by the ghats of Banaras, where Hindus are cremated.

After seeing the Taj Mahal by moonlight Thursday night, Mrs. Kennedy will fly to Benares and spend the night there. Next morning, she will see the most holy city of the Hindus before flying to Udaipur, where she will stay in a white marble palace by a lake hidden in the west Indian hills.

The change of schedule was announced by Jay Gilder, assistant White House press secretary. It reinstates one stop which had been canceled when her visit was shortened from the originally planned 17 days to nine days.

Warren Orders Bond for Red
WASHINGTON (AP)—A New Yorker identified by the government as the organizational secretary of the U.S. Communist party has been ordered freed from jail on bond by Chief Justice Earl Warren.

Warren Tuesday set $1,500 bail for Philip Bart, jailed last week on a contempt of court citation for refusing to answer the questions of a federal grand jury about U.S. Communist party activities.

Warren ruled that unless Bart were granted bail he might serve his six-month sentence before the U.S. Court of Appeals could get around to ruling on his appeal from the sentence.

Both the Court of Appeals and U.S. Dist. Judge Alexander Holtzoff, who cited Bart for contempt and sentenced him to six months in jail, had refused to stay the sentence Bart's attorney appealed to Warren.

Working Mother Speaks Up

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I am a working mother who is also a teacher. Every day my fellow teachers and I struggle in vain to salvage the wreckage of human lives caused by other working mothers.

I delayed taking a job until my children were school age. To have more time with them I have deliberately eliminated all outside activities.

It tears my heart to see mothers turn the care of their preschool children over to others at this crucial character developing period.

I see children in my class going home to empty houses and I worry. Recently a 10-year-old pupil of mine got into trouble and neither parent returned from work to talk to the police until five hours after the incident happened.

I live in an area where any woman can get a decent paying job. Baby sitters are at a premium. A working neighbor of mine with pre-school children found all baby sitters were either morally or mentally unfit to handle impressionable youngsters. Small wonder her children lacked all sense of right and that at seven the eldest had to be put under psychiatric care.

A working mother is a better mother if she is a mother first and a worker second. It is her duty to rear children which will be an asset, not a debit to society. The mother who stays home is the mainstay of our complex civilization. A dipping of the colors to her!—One Who Knows

Dear One: There are two kinds of working mothers; one who is forced by economic necessity to work, the other who takes a job either to avoid the drudgery of home-making or to selfishly provide herself with luxuries she might not otherwise enjoy.

As a rule children of the former turn out to be pretty decent kids with plenty of moral backbone.

It is the children of the latter who crowd the courts and homes for juvenile delinquents. I contend that their mothers, not they, are the real delinquents and as such should be jailed with their children.

Dear Helen: What can a woman do who has a husband who lolls around the house all day long playing solitaire, who seems only to care to eat, sleep, read; who is always going to do things but never does, when there is a young son to be educated, when the home is in debt, when the wife has done everything she possibly can to support the family? That is my fix and I don't know the answer. —Margaret

Dear Margaret: She can do one of two things. One is to refuse to support her lazy, good-for-nothing husband any longer and turn him out of the house. The other is just to accept the situation and quit worrying over it and regard him as a piece of household bric-a-brac.

Indians See Jacqueline During Visit

By EUGENE LEVIN

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Thousands of Indians paused on their way to work today to applaud Jacqueline Kennedy as she visited a boys' rehabilitation home in New Delhi's business section.

Office workers in short-sleeved shirts and laborers in diaphanous dhotis stood by their bicycles or climbed out of buses to get a look at America's First Lady.

It was one of the biggest turn-outs for the U.S. president's wife since she began her nine-day visit to India on Monday.

The crowd was so dense at one point that it surged into the street slowing down the motorcade. Police pushed the spectators back.

Police estimated 4,000 to 5,000 persons were packed in front of the child cooperative center. Shouts of "Mrs. Kennedy zindabad!"—long live Mrs. Kennedy—rang out as her limousine drove up.

Mrs. Kennedy wore a sleeveless yellow linen dress ideal for the fresh, springlike morning, bone-colored shoes and white gloves, a three-strand pearl necklace and a diamond and emerald clip on her dress.

Youth center boys in khaki formed an honor guard at the entrance to the home. Pictures of the American First Lady clipped from magazines adorned the walls of the boys' dormitory and a recreation room which she visited.

Mrs. Kennedy presented the boys with a 16-millimeter sound movie projector complete with screen and film including a documentary called "Pilgrimage to Liberty."

The boys gave her a teak tray and several small cane flower baskets they had made.

After the exchange of gifts the boys performed calisthenics for the visitors.

The boys, between 12 and 18 years old, are voluntary participants in the center—a social workers' alternative to letting delinquents be sent to police institutions. Mrs. Indira Gandhi, Prime Minister Nehru's daughter and Mrs. Kennedy's hostess, is president of the organization.

jectives far short of a blanket commitment to total disarmament. The two big Western powers hoped the conference might achieve:

1. An accord with the Soviet Union to stop the spread of nuclear weapons—and the know-how for their manufacture—to countries which do not possess them.

2. An East-West non-aggression pact between the North Atlantic and Communist Warsaw alliances.

3. Measures to guard against surprise attack, including possible zones of international inspection along the cold war frontiers that could be pilot projects for future disarmament inspection.

Agreement on these disarmament preliminaries could clear the way for the summit conference—possibly in the spring—that Soviet Premier Khrushchev is anations to arrange. The Western powers believe such limited agreements would provide a start toward building confidence between the West and the Communist world and thus lay the groundwork for actual disarmament measures.

Most of the delegations from the 17 conference nations were led by their foreign ministers in response to a call from President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan for the negotiations to begin on that level.

The 17 conference nations include nine veterans of previous disarmament negotiations and eight neutral nations joining the hitherto unsuccessful talks.

Back at the table from the West are the United States, Britain, Italy and Canada. France for the first time is missing because President Charles de Gaulle thinks the conference will achieve nothing and that progress can be made only by four-power negotiations among the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union.

The Communist world once again is represented by the Soviet Union, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Poland and Romania.

The neutrals are Brazil, Burma, Ethiopia, India, Mexico, Nigeria, Sweden and the United Arab Republic.

Despite the general conviction that only limited agreements at best can be achieved, both U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko are expected to present comprehensive rival programs for "general and complete disarmament" to the conference in the next few days.

Future Tradesmen Name Officers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - Charles Oden of Crossett was elected president of the Future Tradesmen of Arkansas today as the high school group wound up a three-day annual convention.

New vice presidents are Larry Evans of Forrest City, Jim Jeter of Paragould and Jimmy Villines of Harrison.

Lana Zeigler of Paragould was named secretary and Teddy French of Little Rock was elected treasurer.

Will Enter If Needed, Says Faubus

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - Gov. Orval E. Faubus warned Monday that he would enter any fighting caused by a suit seeking to end segregation of Little Rock recreational facilities.

The governor's remark was prompted by questioning of newsmen as to why he entered the 1957 integration dispute if he felt the current suit was the city's business.

"Because I was needed," Faubus replied sharply.

"If it looks like there's going to be fighting on the golf courses" as a result of this suit, you can bet I'll be there."

The suit in question was filed last week by a group of Negroes to force integration of the city-owned facilities, including swimming pools.

In 1957, Faubus blocked integration of Little Rock Central High School by using National Guard troops. He contended he had done so to avoid violence.

But, Faubus said, he feels the current suit is the city's business and he doesn't want to interfere.

He said it is inevitable that the suit will result in the closing of Little Rock - owned swimming facilities.

Faubus added that he doesn't think the city will be able to negotiate with Negro leaders by offering to integrate other facilities if the white swimming pools are left alone.

"Any agreement would be temporary, trying to negotiate with the NAACP is like trying to negotiate with the Communists," Faubus said.

"I'm as interested in being of service to Negroes as to whites but I don't believe the NAACP speaks for the Negro people," the governor said.

Faubus said he had been asked also by NAACP to open various state jobs to Negroes.

Challenges Preachers on Race Issue

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) - An Arkansas Baptist pastor challenged fellow Southern ministers today to preach what he said the Bible really teaches about race relations.

The Rev. Dr. Dale Cowling, pastor of the Second Baptist Church in Little Rock told 400 Texas ministers assembled for a statewide Baptist conference on race relations they no longer can ignore the race problem in the pulpit.

"We have no choice but to face the issue now," he said in an address prepared for a racially mixed audience at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary.

Dr. Cowling said many Baptists have made little progress toward "our Lord's attitude on race," mainly because prejudice, tradition and sentiment have sharpened people's feelings to a fine point on race relations.

He suggested that pastors who preach on the subject do so in the "conviction of God's spirit" and not with a crusading spirit. He recommended that they quote the Bible and not give personal opinions.

Dr. Frank Staggs, professor at New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary, said "it is blasphemy to charge God with racial segregation" and use the Bible as a prop-text for bigotry, discrimination segregation and stereotyping.

OUR ANCESTORS

"We better kill that one-piece bathing suit sooner or later or it'll never get by the censors!"

Chapter 33

Miss Maggy had carried out her mission. She and Jenny were waiting in the carriage when Hilda ran down the steps. As soon as Hilda was seated in back with Jenny, Santo drove off. It was half past noon.

A few minutes later, Will opened the side door with his key. He walked past the offices without stopping, and into the big hall.

"Hello?" he called. "Where is everybody?" he heard a faint reply from upstairs. The voice sounded like Mr. Matthew. With an uncomfortable feeling of uneasiness, Will strode down the hall.

He was beckoned in, eagerly. Mr. Matthew launched into a tale that Will found more unbelievable every minute. At the end, he was angry and frightened.

"You let Hilda go off, now? Don't you know the city's dangerous? Which way did they go?" He was already at the door.

"Wait!" Mr. Matthew commanded. "There's just time, with luck, for Santo to get the carriage through, before the parade. Anyway, they wouldn't be going near it, and we've got to decide what to do about . . ."

The door behind Will was thrown open with a crash, nearly catching him in the back. He saw Mr. Matthew's startled look change to grim determination and, incredibly, he raised his hands and aimed a pistol at the door.

Will pivoted, and saw Race Nash standing there. After they'd been on their way for almost half an hour, Hilda had recovered from her fright and sense of urgency enough to notice that the streets were growing more crowded with every block. Some of the crowd were in an ugly temper, pushing and shoving.

"Santo," she called, "this is Eighth Avenue. They're going to parade here. Turn off!"

Santo shrugged, pointed. There was no chance of turning. The side streets were a solid mass of Jenny moved, as if to get out the other side. It was then Hilda saw they were surrounded by

Faubus Still Silent About a 5th Term

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today whether he will run for a fifth term is "principally a personal question."

Newsmen hammered at Faubus for about 15 minutes today trying to pin him down on the fifth term issue.

Faubus sidestepped all questions with practice garnered from previous pre-campaign maneuverings.

Faubus said he did not want to discuss the personal question but it covered the entire field of politics, not simply whether he would run again for governor.

He was asked about a report that his campaign staff has leased a downtown building for a headquarters.

"I don't know anything about that," he said.

Told that one potential candidate had been informed certain quarters were reserved for the governor, Faubus said: "Sometimes these people with good quarters wait for the surest pay. Are you aware that some candidates from past elections have left bills unpaid?"

Faubus declined to elaborate on this remark.

Raney Co. Buys N. L. R. Bonds

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) - J. T. Raney and Sons purchased $3 million worth of sewer improvement bonds from the North Little Rock City Council Monday night.

The interest rate is 3.65 per cent.

Bryan Sims of Stephens, Inc., the city's fiscal agent, called the sale an excellent one. He had predicted before the conclusion of the auction that the rate wouldn't drop much below 3.75 per cent.

Bids started at 4.50 per cent. North Little Rock's last bond sale, the $700,000 Maumelle auction, was at an interest rate of 4.375 per cent.

The sewer bonds will be financed by a sewer service charge that will be added to all city water bills.

Bonds for Sewers

TURRELL, Ark. (AP) - Turrell voters decide today on a $35,000 bond issue to build a city sewer system and extend the water system.

Gypsies. She grabbed Jenny and held her tightly, while Miss Maggy kept valiantly swinging her bag.

The man on the carriage reached out a large hand and crumpled the old lady. She fell back, a trickle of blood running down her face. The man jerked Hilda's bonnet roughly from her head. He stared at her red hair, then pushed her away from Jenny. Reaching to his belt, he pulled out a gun.

Hilda didn't know she'd shut her eyes, nor that the explosion had temporarily deafened her. She was only aware of sudden silence.

She opened her eyes. The seat beside her was empty. Jenny was gone.

Hilda stood up on trembling legs, "Jenny!" she screamed, "Jenny!"

"It's all right," a voice answered, almost in her ear.

Oregon, Utah Battle Past Rugged Teams

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP)—Utah State and Oregon State battled past tough opponents Tuesday night to advance to Far West NCAA playoffs at Provo, Utah.

Utah State fought off a strong Arizona State rally in the closing minutes to get a 78-73 victory, but the real cliff-hanger came in the night's second game, when Oregon State took a 69-65 overtime win over Seattle.

Oregon State will meet Pepperdine Friday night and Utah State will play UCLA.

The field for the three other regionals was set Tuesday night in other first-round games.

Dave Hayward, a 5-foot-10 junior, played a hero's role in the closing minutes of the Oregon State victory. He put a tight check on Seattle's high scoring Eddie Miles and sank two crucial free throws with 40 seconds left in overtime, giving the Beavers a 67-65 lead. Mel Counts sank two more from the foul line with eight seconds left.

The game was close all the way. Tommy Shauls of Seattle sank a long jump shot with 20 seconds left to tie the score 59-59, and send the game into overtime.

In the first game, Utah State was behind 35-35 at halftime, but put on a tremendous rally in the first 10 minutes of the second half to run the score to 56-42.

The Utah State victory stopped the Sun Devils' winning streak at 18. It had been the longest streak among major college teams.

Cincinnati, which meets Creighton at Manhattan, Kan., in the Midwest regional playoffs Friday night, now owns the longest major winning streak—14.

First-ranked Ohio State, which plays Western Kentucky in the Midwest regional at Iowa City, Iowa, hopes to get a crack at Cincinnati and avenge the Buckeyes' loss to the Bearcats in last year's NCAA final.

Here is the lineup for the four regional playoffs Friday and Saturday:

East of College Park, Md.—Wake Forest vs. St. Joseph's (Pa.) and Villanova vs. NYU. Midwest at Iowa City, Iowa—Butler vs. Kentucky and Ohio State vs. Western Kentucky. Midwest at Manhattan, Kan.

Roads Group and Judges to Meet

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Legislative Council's Roads and Highways Committee meets with representatives of the County Judges Association and the Highway Department here Thursday to discuss adding 6,700 miles of county federal aid secondary roads to the state highway system.

The 1961 legislature directed a study of the proposal, but the Highway Department has said the 15-year-old county system is obsolete due to population shifts, and that the system should be revised before it is incorporated into the state highway system.

The state system consists of about 11,000 miles. One problem that confronts the agencies is how the addition of the county roads would be financed.

Another File for Legislature

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Albert J. Barnes, an advertising consultant, filed today as a candidate for one of the three new Pulaski County state representative's jobs created by the state Supreme Court in a decision Monday.

Sherman Blake Williams filed for the same post Monday.

Business, Civic Leader Succumbs

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Q. Lamar Porter, 84, a business and civic leader, died at his home here today.

He founded the Commercial Warehouse Co. and remained its president until his retirement a few years ago.

He headed the Pulaski County War Finance Committee in 1942 and was a member of the state War Finance Committee.

Celebes Island consists of four outlying peninsulas. Early explorers believed the mountains was a group of islands.

Jockey Grounded at Hot Springs

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Jockey Harry Holcomb was grounded Tuesday by Oaklawn stewards for careless riding in the eighth race Monday.

Holcomb, the second rider to draw a penalty for rules infractions during the present meet, was suspended for 10 calendar days. He guided Our Timmie, a 4-1 shot, to second place behind Admiral Jack, the favorite.

State Horse Captures Spa Feature Race

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Elgae, owned by Mrs. Jack S. Carnes of Camden, Ark., raced past six other 3-year-olds Tuesday to capture the featured $3,500 purse and prove his mettle in the first long distance test of Arkansas Derby hopefuls at Oaklawn Park.

Elgae's victory in the mile and 70 yard race handed the Florshiem speedster Bold Prince his first defeat as a 3-year-old.

Jockey Robert Nono was on board as Elgae registered his first victory of the year in a surging drive up the home lane. Clyde B. McNeill's 3-2 favorite, The Nutts, finished second, just in front of the Winchester Stable's A Man Who. Bold Prince was fourth.

Elgae covered the fast track in 1:43.8 and returned $10.80, $4.20 and $3.40.

A crowd of 8,201 wagered $484,094 on the eight races.

Long shot victories in the first and second event produced a daily double of $617.50 — second largest of the meeting.

Jockey Ken Griffith guided Whistlers Prince ($20.60) to victory in the opener, and Ronnie Campbell was in the saddle in the second race when Quick Marie ($60.40) posted her first victory of the meet.

So Will I and Little Doings returned $1,099.20 on Feb. 20.

Marion H. Van Berg's Spring Broker heads the list of sprinters entered in Wednesday's $3,500 headliner, named in honor of comedian George Goebel.

Spring Broker, winner of a division of the 1960 Arkansas Derby, has yet to score in the current meeting, but has been rounding into form after a layoff.

Carrying top weight of 119 pounds in the six furlong dash will be W. Hal Bishop's Pyrite.

Sharing the second high weight of 116 pounds with Spring Broker will be Leo Weinberger's One By A Length and R. C. Gilmore's Mocher.

Two big threats, however, may be the Jacnet Stable's Our Special Jet, recently arrived from California, and Irving Gushen's Bumpy Road, who narrowly missed in his last outing.

Bipartisan Commission

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John McClellan, D-Ark., proposed Monday that a bipartisan commission be set up to study the proposed creation of a Department of Science and Technology. The Arkansas senator said there is a lack of coordination between federal agencies engaged in science activities.

Detroit Seems to Have That Baffling Power

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

It has taken Manager Bob Schefeling of the Detroit Tigers just four days to figure out the club's main strength if it is going anywhere in the American League pennant chase this year.

Just as in the 1961 season, the Tigers are going to rely on their hitting punch to pull them over the humps. Last year the Bengals led the league in batting with a .263 average compared to .2661 for Cleveland.

They also produced the league's two top hitters, Norm Cash at .361 and Al Kaline at .324. Also around was Rocky Colavito, who had 140 runs batted in and 45 home runs.

Now, in four exhibition games, the Tigers have clubbed 46 hits, an average of more than 10 a game and enough to put fear into any pitcher's heart.

The Tigers won their third in four games Tuesday, polishing off the St. Louis Cardinals 7-1 at St. Petersburg, Fla. They broke the game open with five runs in the seventh inning. Four of them came as a result of home runs by pinch hitter Bubba Morton and rookie Fernal Gandy.

The Los Angeles Dodgers, Chicago Cubs, Chicago White Sox, and Cincinnati Reds also won their games using home runs as the big blows.

The Dodgers clobbered the Milwaukee Braves 10-5 at Bradenton, with the Davis boys, Tommy and Willie, batting in seven runs with homers. Tommy's was a grand-slam job, and Willie's came with two on.

Rookie Ken Hubbs, Ernie Banks and George Altman all homered for the Cubs in a 12-7 triumph over the San Francisco Giants at Phoenix. Seven of the Cubs' runs were unearned as a result of five Giant errors. Felipe Alou and rookie Manuel Mota homered for the losers. Mota's was his third in as many games.

Floyd Robinson had a three-run homer that provided the difference in a 5-2 White Sox decision over the Philadelphia Phillies at Clearwater. He also whacked a couple of doubles and a single.

Jerry Lynch and Vada Pinson 4-3 victory over Baltimore in a night game at Miami.

The world champion New York Yankees won their fourth straight, defeating the Minnesota Twins 4-2 at Fort Lauderdale.

The Yanks now are the only major league club that hasn't lost an exhibition game. Ralph Terry and Bill Stafford combined for a four-hit pitching performance.

The New York Mets — the Amazon' Mets now — won their third straight, racing past the Pittsburgh Pirates 4-0 behind the two-hit pitching of Roger Craig and Evans Killeen at Fort Myers.

The Houston Colts, the other new National League team, won their first game, beating Cleveland 2-1, with Jim Embrecht, Jim Golden and Manuel Montijo handling the pitching chores. Don

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Surplus commodities were distributed to 311,500 persons during February, state Welfare Commissioner Carl Adams announced Tuesday. Adams said this was 59,500 more persons than received the commodities through county agencies during the same month last year.

Schwall and Dave Bushy, Boston's University of Oklahoma pitching whizzes, tossed three scoreless innings each in the Red Sox' 3-2 victory over the Los Angeles Angels at Palm Springs, Calif.

The Kansas City A's won their hit solo homers in Cincinnati's Washington Senators 5-1.
